PROJECT SUMMARY

TNT gave a pilot order to this drama based on the "Letty Dobesh" novel series written by Blake Crouch ("Wayward Pines"), who wrote the pilot with Chad Hodge ("Wayward Pines"). The project will star Michelle Dockery ("Downton Abbey").

OPPORTUNITY SUMMARY

This drama provides brands in multiple categories with strong opportunities to reach a wide audience. Apparel + Accessories brands have highly visible opportunities to clothe Letty and Javier who both dress well above their social status in order to take advantage of the wealthy. Food and Beverage brands have a bevy of opportunities as Javier and Letty drink and dine at fancy restaurants and clubs. Consumer Electronics brands have significant opportunities as Letty stays in touch and steals electronics out of hotel rooms. Automotive brands have impactful opportunities in the vehicles used by Letty and Javier to get around town and out of trouble. Letty lives out of motels and steals from hotels, leading to potential opportunities for Travel + Hospitality brands. There are also notable opportunities for Personal + Household and Retail Stores + Services brands throughout the pilot.

Apparel + Accessories

Synopsis

Letty Dobesh, 40, is a thief, con artist, and recently released ex-con. She's a drifter and is always on the run. Letty works at a diner and a customer tries to rape her. Letty kicks him in the nuts, but gets fired. Letty travels to Asheville, NC, and lives out of a motel. She's an alcoholic and struggling to stay on the wagon. Letty goes to a luxury resort and runs a scam with the hotel bartender. He gets her a master key to the rooms and tips her off as to which rooms might be good targets. Letty cleans up, but the occupants of one of the rooms return before Letty can get out. She's forced to hide in the closet. She overhears a good-looking and slick man, Javier, discussing plans with another man who wants Javier to kill his wife. Letty is shocked but tries to keep it together. Javier tells the man to leave his house at 10am tomorrow and then to call his wife at 10:15am and say he forgot his wallet upstairs. This will give Javier time to sneak inside undetected. The man leaves, Javier eventually falls asleep, and Letty runs out.

Letty is unsure as to whether or not she should intervene. Letty tries calling someone named Estelle, who we later learn is her estranged mother. Estelle is raising Letty's son and won't let Letty see him. Suddenly Letty realizes she left the hotel master key in Javier's room. She goes back to the hotel and sees Javier walking out. Letty decides to follow Javier and ends up at a posh nightclub. After bribing the bouncer, Letty posts up next to Javier and he gets her a drink. Letty falls off the wagon and decides to drink. The two hit it off and they go to a fancy restaurant together for dinner. Letty gets drunk and goes back to Javier's room where they have sex.

Letty wakes up in the morning feeling ashamed. She finds the master key and pockets it. She realizes this is the morning Javier is going to kill the guy's wife. Letty makes up her mind and decides to go warn the wife. But when she arrives, the wife doesn't believe her. Letty convinces the wife to let her inside and says that the husband will call her at exactly 10:15 am. Right on time, the husband calls. The wife now believes Letty and is terrified. The wife gives Letty a shotgun they have at the house. Letty waits for Javier and holds him up. Javier tries to bargain with Letty, but she has the wife call the police. Sirens can be heard and the wife tells Letty to run. If Letty is still there she'll go back to jail for violating her parole. Letty finally agrees, takes some of the cash that Javier was getting for the hit, and flees in Javier's SUV.

Days later, Letty tries to go see her son, but her mother won't let Letty in the house. Letty leaves some cash for her son in the mail box. Letty goes to Florida and holes up in a motel. On the news, she watches a report saying that the woman she tried to help died in an apparent suicide a day later. Suddenly Javier shows up at her motel room. But instead of kill her, Javier insists that she work for him now.
